Description

The town of San Martín de los Andes is located south of the Neuquén province. It's nestled in an ample valley on the shores of Lago Lacar, at an elevation of 640 meters over sea level. Setting out from Bariloche, you'll travel to San Martín de los Andes, going through Villa la Angostura first, and then towards the Siete Lagos, where you can enjoy the most beautiful scenery in the region, crystalline lakes, with unusual colors of blue and green, framed by dense, old woods. Arriving at San Martín de los Andes, a typical mountain town, you'll have time to tour the city, visit the banks of Lago Lacar, enjoy the delicious and varied gastronomy of the area, and later you'll meet up at the designated point for the return to Bariloche. This is, without a doubt, a trip that you can't miss when you visit the area.
